CBS PROGRAM BOOK · WINTER, 1944

"... a kind of orchestrated hell ..."

THE FRONT COVER . . . Inset in the picture of a flight of Allied bombers trailing vapor is the likeness of Edward R. Murrow, CBS news chief in London, who on the night of Thursday, December 2, 1943 rode a British Lancaster on a Berlin raid, and described the raid next afternoon at 5:30 by short wave to the CBS Network and the American people, in one of the most graphic and memorable broadcasts of the war. If you heard the broadcast and want to keep it, or if you want to read it for the first time, just write CBS and say "Send me a copy of 'Orchestrated Hell'."

To maintain its flexibility—to continue to present the most highly contemporary and most stimulating sustaining programs on the air—Columbia finds it necessary from time to time to alter some details in its schedule. These day-to-day and even hour-to-hour changes are reported, when possible, in local newspaper radio listings.

Trans-Atlantic Call: People to People

12:30–1:00 p.m.
EACH SUNDAY

Every Sunday the British Broadcasting Corporation and the Columbia Broadcasting System shake hands firmly over the ocean. In this half-hour program, originating alternately in Britain and the United States, the radio audiences are offered an eye-witness glimpse of a locality where the plain people are brought to the microphone. Thus, the audiences of the two nations have learned what people across the ocean talk like, do, and think about the war and the peace.

Calling Pan-America
2:30–3:00 p.m.

CBS draws the Americas closer together with this weekly program short-waved from Latin-American capitals. The series "calls" a different nation to the microphone each Saturday, and presents a vivid radio picture of its life, culture and music. The program is heard throughout the Hemisphere.

Viva America!
11:30–12 midnight
EACH THURSDAY

Like Calling Pan-America, this sparkling new Latin-American musical review spotlights the music and culture of our Good Neighbor republics. It represents a further step in Columbia's effort to promote inter-American unity. Through the growing North-American interest in Latin-American affairs, an interest fostered largely by radio, New York has already gathered to itself many of the finest Latin-American artists. Viva America! will accordingly be broadcast from New York; it will be heard throughout the Hemisphere.

Eminent guest soloists will make regular appearances on the broadcasts. Harl McDonald, noted American composer and manager of the orchestra, is the intermission speaker. The series is broadcast from the Academy of Music in Philadelphia, the orchestra's permanent home.

Invitation to Music

Playing on the baroque organ in the Germanic Museum at Harvard University—now headquarters for a U. S. Army Chaplains' School—this noted musician broadcasts the world's finest organ music. In a special series of concerts to be given in joint sponsorship with Mrs. Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge, these programs are expanded to include works written for various combinations of instruments with the organ. They feature not only concertos by the classic masters, such as Handel, Mozart, Bach and Purcell, but also compositions specially written for the series by contemporary American composers. Assisting artists will be the Fiedler Sinfonietta and the Stradivarius Quartet.

CBS SUSTAINING PROGRAMS

are chosen because they are timely, exciting and balanced. These three standards of selection produce a diverse, flexible program schedule, carefully designed to win and retain the interest of millions of listeners. To maintain its flexibility—to continue to present the most highly contemporary and most stimulating sustaining programs on the air—Columbia finds it necessary from time to time to alter some details in its schedule. These day-to-day and even hour-to-hour changes are reported, when possible, in local newspaper radio listings.

For your convenience, the Columbia sustaining programs listed on the following pages are grouped in these classifications:

In this half-hour program, originating alternately in Britain and the United States, the radio audiences are offered an eye-witness glimpse of a locality where the lives and activities of the people are portrayed. Thus, the audiences of the two nations have learned what people across the ocean talk like, do, and think about the war and the peace.

SERIOUS MUSIC

The Philadelphia Orchestra
Suspended for Summer—
Will resume in the Fall

One of the world's greatest symphonic groups, the Philadelphia Orchestra, will resume its brilliant series during the 1944–1945 season. The time will be specified at a later date. Eugene Ormandy will conduct most of these concerts, and eminent soloists will make regular appearances on the broadcasts.

August 15	ALLIED INVASION OF SOUTHERN FRANCE When the War Department notified CBS at 1 a.m. to stand by for an important announcement and to monitor Rome and Algiers, Everett Holles, CBS assistant director of news broadcasts. and a staff of reporters and analysts, all veterans of the D-Day coverage broadcast news reports every half-hour. The official communique announcing the landings near Cannes was issued at 6:10 a.m. During the day CBS brought in its overseas correspondents: Winston Burdett from Allied Headquarters in Italy; Eric Sevareid representing the combined networks who landed with the first waves of Americans; George Moorad who flew over the beaches in a bomber. Intermittently reports came in from the CBS Washington news staff standing by in the press room of the Pentagon.
Note:	On August 8 CBS news headquarters in New York advised CBS affiliated stations to be ready to take important news broadcasts through a revised "beep" signal alert, brief intervals of tone superimposed on the current program. The super-beep (5 seconds) indicates news of great moment; two beeps, important or exclusive news, usually an overseas pickup; three beeps for news bulletin originating in the United States; five beeps indicating a news analysis or feature broadcast.

CBS TELEVISION

Since May 5, 1944, CBS' Television Station, WCBW-NY has televised twice weekly on Thursdays and Fridays a two-hour live-talent program, between 8 and 10 p.m. These programs have been developed on an experimental and sustaining basis, and recently have followed a basic pattern, consisting of the following elements:

News and News Analysis—a 15-minute period during which Everett Holles, CBS Assistant Director of News Broadcasts reports and analyzes the news against a background of visual devices including maps, animations, photographs and other visualizations.

Opinions on Trial, a 45-minute period devoted to the dramatized discussion of controversial issues, presented as a courtroom scene with Judge, Counsel and Opposing Witnesses. The television home audience constitutes the jury and are asked to mail in their verdict.

They Were There, a 15-minute interview program bringing before the television camera men and women in military and civilian war service to describe their experiences.

Documentary Film. The second hour opens each night with a telecast of documentary or other films.

The Missus Goes A-Shopping. The successful CBS audience-participation program adapted for television. 30 minutes.

Will You Remember? The popular radio vocalist Miss Vera Massey in a 15-minute song-soliloquy.

At Home. A half-hour musical-variety program set in the informal background of a living room and containing interludes of songs and dancing.

This pattern is supplemented each week with experiments in adapting various types of radio programs to television, with special events dictated by the news of the day, and with dramatic and educational features.
